Home to the 2006 & 2008

Home to the 2006 and 2008 NCAA Volleyball Championships, Qwest Center OMAHA™ continues to be the site of record-breaking crowds.

The venue hosted record crowds for the 2005 Omaha Volleyball Regional, attracting more than 14,000 fans both days and the top six crowds of '05 overall.

On Sept. 24, Creighton volleyball will host Nebraska at Qwest Center OMAHA, shattering CU attendance records once again.

2006 Outlook

A strong spring season and the addition of four newcomers has the Creighton volleyball team setting some lofty goals for themselves this fall.

Fourth-year coach Kirsten Bernthal Booth's recruiting classes have matured, and a run at the league championship and NCAA Tournament is no longer just a dream.

Nine letterwinners and five starters return to Creighton's 2006 team, which will face four opponents that reached last season's NCAA Tournament.

Highlighting Creighton's difficult non-conference schedule is a Sept. 24 match with 2005 national runner-up Nebraska. That match will be held at the site of the 2006 and 2008 NCAA Championships, Qwest Center OMAHA, and is expected to shatter Creighton and MVC records for attendance.

Korie Lebeda

Setters

Korie Lebeda returns for her sophomore season after rewriting the Creighton and MVC record books as a freshman.

Lebeda led the nation's freshmen in assists per game with 13.34, which also established a new league standard.

The Omaha native played every point last season and will likely be called on to be an ironwoman once again.

Incoming freshman Maggie Workman is also listed as a setter, though she will likely see most of her time as a defensive specialist or libero.

Kelly Goc

Middle Blockers

Former MVC All-Freshman Team honorees Kelly Goc and Jessica Houts return to the middle for Creighton, where they are joined by Julianne Jackson and Lauren Bloemke.

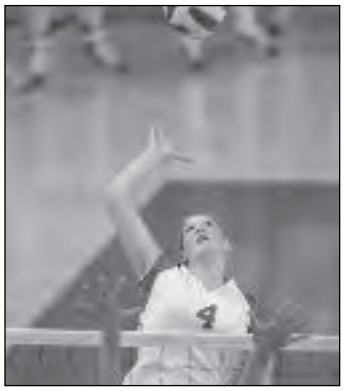
Goc, now a junior, was a second-team all-MVC choice in 2005. The Ralston native ranked second on the team in kills, blocks and points per game. Goc is one of the league's most underrated players and has proven herself as a consistent threat.

Houts returns for her sophomore season after pacing all MVC freshmen in kills and blocks in 2005. Houts showed tremendous improvement her rookie season and big things are expected from her once again.

Bloemke enters the program with exciting potential. An athletic jumper, Bloemke also boasts good footwork and has all the tools to develop in similar fashion to Houts and Goc.

Jackson is one of three seniors on the team, spending most of her time on the scout team. She has played in 20 matches over her first three seasons, and the veteran's experience and leadership will no doubt help the entire squad once again.



Amanda Cvejdlik

Outside Hitters

Record-setting Leah Ratzlaff has graduated, but there's no shortage of talent at the outside hitter position.

Abby Baumann and Amanda Cvejdlik combined for 37 starts last season, and will be bolstered by the return of former starter Carolyn Decker.

Baumann ranked fourth on the team in kills and second in digs in her first season as a regular starter.

Cvejdlik came on strong late last year and ended up leading all MVC freshmen in kills during league play in 2005.

Decker averaged 2.94 kills and 2.72 digs per game before a season-ending elbow injury last year. An MVC All-Freshman pick in 2004, Decker's explosiveness and competitive streak will help fuel Creighton's drive towards the top of the league standings.

Two newcomers on the outside are senior Kristi Woodard and freshman Sarah Schulze.

Woodard is a former Creighton basketball player who excelled as a prep volleyball player. Woodard played on three WNIT teams in hoops, including CU's 2004 WNIT championship club, and has always experienced success.

Schulze played for one of the top club teams in the country. She has the potential to step in and make an immediate impact in her debut season on the Hilltop.

Emily Greisch

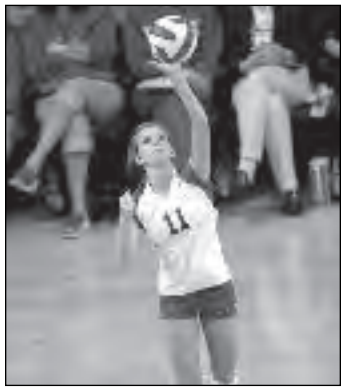
Libero's & Defensive Specialists

Creighton experimented with five different players at libero last year. This year's likely candidates to fill that role are senior Emily Greisch, junior Katie Mehal or freshman Workman.

Greisch ranked fourth on the team with 242 digs last season, including 15 matches with at least 10 digs. Greisch played five matches in the libero role last year, averaging 4.08 digs per game in those contests.

Workman played a little bit of everywhere in high school, but her college future likely lies in the back row. Her versatility should prove beneficial in 2006.

The third candidate for a spot in the back row is Mehal. Mehal is known for her outstanding serve but also has excellent ballhandling skills. Mehal played one match as libero last season, and continues to be the only left-hander in the program.



Katie Mehal

The Head Coach

Kirsten Bernthal Booth enters her fourth season as head coach of the Creighton volleyball program. Her .517 winning percentage is best in program history, while her 46 wins rank second.

In addition to annual academic recognition from the AVCA, her teams have competed in three straight Missouri Valley Conference Tournaments while also setting school records for consecutive matches won and wins in a season.

In three seasons, Booth has coached two first-team and four second-team all-MVC picks, while also recruiting and coaching five MVC all-Freshman Team honorees. Booth's teams have also included 10 members of the MVC Scholar-Athlete Team in that time. All 89 matches with her as head coach at Creighton have included at least one freshman in the starting line-up.

Last year was highlighted by the program's first-ever win at Northern Iowa, a win over Big East power Marquette, and the title at the San Diego State Invitational. The Jays would finish 16-14, reaching the MVC Tournament for a record-tying third straight year.

Booth's 2004 club won a program-best 18 matches while also picking up tournament titles at events hosted by New Mexico and Missouri. That team put together an early seven-match winning streak that included victories over teams from the Big 12 (Missouri), Big Ten (Iowa), Southeastern (Mississippi State) and Mountain West Conferences (New Mexico). CU was also the only club in the MVC to beat the regular-season and tourney champ, Wichita State, in 2004.

In 2003, Booth inherited a team that went 3-23 prior to her arrival and improved that nearly identical squad to a 12-18 mark in her debut season at Creighton. That fall, the Bluejays helped pave the foundation for a promising future by signing five Nebraska products that composed one of the nation's most-heralded recruiting classes.

Booth has proven to be a popular coach among her players and within the Omaha community, a key factor in the team's record crowds each season under Booth. Last year's squad attracted three of the top five single-match crowds in school history.

Booth enters her fourth season as head coach at Creighton with an impressive past, both on and off the court.

On the court, Booth was an all-state setter in high school at Lincoln East and conference MVP in college at Truman State.

Off the court, she earned Academic All-American honors, was named the 1997 Missouri NCAA Woman of the Year, earned her Master's degree, and has been named District Coach of the Year twice in her six seasons on the bench.

Prior to coming to Creighton, Booth went a combined 112-41 in three seasons at Kirkwood Community College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. All three of her teams won at least 36 matches.

Her first team went 37-12 and reached the NJCAA finals before falling to St. Clair College. For these efforts in her debut season, she was named the District C Coach of the Year.

In her second season, her team went 36-18, finished fourth at the NJCAA Tournament, and she was honored as the American Volleyball Coaches Association NJCAA Midwest Coach of the Year, while also repeating her District C Coach of the Year laurels.

Her final club won 39 matches and had seven players earn All-Academic honors from the Iowa Community College Athletic Conference. In addition to her coaching responsibilities, she served as the school's human resource coordinator, where she was in charge of staff development and wellness for all faculty and staff at Kirkwood.

Booth served as a volunteer coach with the University of Iowa in the fall of 1997, helping to run drills and scout opponents. The following spring, she served as interim head coach while running practice and doing other assorted administrative tasks. She later earned her Master's degree in higher education administration with an emphasis in athletic administration from Iowa in 2000.

As an undergrad, Booth's teams at Truman State went 101-54 with her running the offense at setter. She was named the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletic Association Freshman of the Year in 1993, and earned all-MIAA accolades her final three seasons as well.

She capped off her career in 1996 by earning MIAA Player of the Year honors and new school records for assists in a season (1,662) and career (6,077), the latter of which ranked third in NCAA history at the Division II level when she graduated. She remains among Truman's all-time leaders for digs (1,410), aces (127) and blocks (230).

A member of the Student Senate at Truman State where she graduated magna cum laude with a degree in communications, she was named the 1997 Missouri NCAA Woman of the Year.

Growing up, Booth excelled in both tennis and volleyball at Lincoln East High School, where she is a member of the school's Athletic Hall of Fame. In tennis, she was a three-time All-American and two-time state champion at #1 singles. She was also a second-team all-state volleyball player.

Booth and her husband, Erik, reside in Omaha. They have one daughter, Reese, who turned one in May.

Q&A With Coach Booth

What are your goals as a coach and for the kids in your program?
I think there are three main goals.

Our first goal is to develop people and make sure that they are a better person when they graduate than when they came in. It comes down to the philosophy of developing work ethic, teamwork and dedication.

Second, I want the players to enjoy the experience and leave Creighton volleyball loving the game. I think too often in college athletics players are burned out by the end. I think you can work hard, be passionate and demand a lot but still do it with the love of the game in mind.

I'd be remiss if I didn't say that my other goal was to win. I think doing things correctly and in an ethical way can still be done in a winning manner in Division I college athletics. That is our focus here at Creighton.

How much do you emphasize graduating and academics?
We're able to attract great student-athletes because we can differentiate ourselves from other schools. If you've got an outstanding recruit who is looking at some other schools, Creighton is going to win out a lot of the time if that person is academically-focused.

Our athletic department ranks 15th nationally in graduation rate and our team owns a GPA of 3.50. Academic excellence is a way of life at Creighton, and we're proud to do our part.

Our team is full of kids that are committed to working hard in the classroom. The academic support that our kids receive is outstanding when it comes to tutors, priority registration and meeting with advisors. The last thing is that we talk about it. I bring it up almost on a daily basis whether or not they are working hard in the classroom. They know that we sincerely want them to care about what they are doing academically.

How is it like a family once your players get here?
When we recruit, we recruit kids that we feel confident are good people. That's led to great chemistry. Obviously we have a variety of different personalities, but it comes down to people with strong character and our kids love each other.

As a staff, our coaches enjoy each other and I think that is displayed through our players. Our staff cares about the kids as people. They know that if something is going on in their life, any of the coaches are going to be there. Volleyball becomes second very quickly when something important is going on in their life that they need help with.

Describe a typical practice during the season:
I think our players would say our practices are very high energy. We ask a lot from them, but do it in a positive way.

We usually start with something competitive with a ball to warm up. After we stretch, we then often go into a deep-court competitive game. A lot of times we'll split for 30-45 minutes. Our middles might work with our setters, our outsides might do shot work, and our defensive specialists might do defensive or passing work. For the last 45 minutes or an hour of practice, we'll do competitive games. I'm a big believer that we've got to teach players to compete so we put them in scenarios in every drill where they're competing.

One of the things you are proud of is the team's 12-2 record in five-game matches the last three years. What's the key?
I think you can teach people how to win, and we pride ourselves in that. Our success in fifth games is due to the fact that we don't overcoach. We tell our players to go out there, play hard and have fun. When it comes down to it, we're in athletics for the rush of fifth-game situations.

When it's 13-13 or 28-28, instead of being nervous we remind our players that we've worked so hard for this type of opportunity and how fun that is. We want to seize the moment and relax them. When it's 28-28, we want our players swinging hard and we'll play the odds that the ball is going to go down if they are swinging aggressively.

How has the move to the Civic helped your program?
People that come to the Civic say it's a top-20 atmosphere. I think that what our marketing department has done there is phenomenal. From the band to the cheerleaders to all our Bluejay Buddies that create our rally tunnel when the players come out. People that haven't been to the Civic to see a game definitely need to come out and see the energy and the atmosphere and they're always impressed.

You'll play Nebraska at Qwest Center OMAHA this year, home to the the NCAA Volleyball Championships this December. How exciting is that?
What an opportunity for our players to play a very good Nebraska program in front of a state of knowledgeable fans. Not only will there be a large crowd, but people in Nebraska know volleyball. You'll have passionate people in the stands and it's a testament to volleyball in this state. In addition to a great crowd, we'll be playing in one of the finest arenas in the country.

You'll play a national finalist for the second straight year. Talk about your scheduling philosophy:
When our staff came in three seasons ago, we made it clear we wanted to become an NCAA team, and that's the goal. Everything that we do from a scheduling perspective is done with that intent in mind. We're scheduling teams that are NCAA caliber teams so that within our non-conference schedule, we're giving ourselves the opportunity to earn an at-large bid if we don't earn the automatic bid out of the Missouri Valley.

Coaching Staff

Paul Giesselmann

Paul Giesselmann enters his fourth year at Creighton, and first as associate head coach. He was promoted from assistant coach to associate head coach in January of 2006.

Giesselmann serves as the program's recruiting coordinator while also organizing all fundraising efforts.

With his recommendations, Creighton has offered and signed the top prep players in Nebraska and the Midwest to complete three top-notch recruiting classes. The Jays own five selections to the MVC All-Freshman Team in the last three years, two more than anyone else in the MVC, and are one of two schools in league history with multiple All-Freshman team picks in consecutive seasons.

Creighton's 2004 squad won tournaments at both Missouri and New Mexico, while the 2005 club won the San Diego State Invitational. Prior to Giesselmann's arrival, Creighton had owned just one tournament title in nine previous seasons.

Giesselmann spent eight seasons as head coach at the College of St. Mary's in Omaha, amassing an overall record of 227-80 before leaving in 2001 to spend time with his family.

While at CSM, Giesselmann had five teams win 30 or more matches and was named Midland Collegiate Athletic Conference Coach of the Year each of his last seven seasons. In addition, he was also named Tachikara Regional Coach of the Year four times (1996, '99, '00, '01) and was 2000 NAIA National Coach of the Year.

He won the Omaha Sportscasters Recognition Award in both 1996 and 2000. In 1999, the Omaha World-Herald named him as the Nebraska State College Women's Coach of the Year.

His teams won AVCA national team academic awards all eight years and had 11 All-American Scholar-Athletes. He also coached 12 All-Americans, 21 all-region selections and 33 all-MCAC picks. His student-athletes were honored as Regional Player of the Year three times and Conference Player of the Year on five occasions. His squads also won the MCAC Tournament his final seven seasons and were regular-season champs the final six campaigns. The program reached its highest-ever national ranking in 2000 when they were ranked second.

Prior to going to CSM, Giesselmann was an assistant coach at the University of Nebraska-Omaha in 1993-94. He also was a head volleyball coach at Duchesne Academy of the Sacred Heart (1992-93) and at Winside HS (1988-92) in both volleyball and basketball.

Giesselmann and his wife, Dr. Paige Groppe, have twin 10-year-old boys, Hunter and Garret.

Angie Oxley Behrens

A former national champion and four-year starter at the University of Nebraska, Angie Oxley Behrens returns for her fourth season as an assistant coach at Creighton.

In addition to her coaching, Behrens works with Creighton's camps while also organizing game management responsibilities.

Over the past three seasons, Behrens played a crucial role in helping outside hitter Leah Ratzlaff earn all-MVC accolades each year. Ratzlaff owns the top three single-season kill totals in Creighton history, while also setting the career mark.

Behrens has also trained three players to a spot on the MVC's All-Freshman team, middle blockers Kelly Goc (2004), Jessica Houts (2005) and outside hitter Carolyn Decker (2004).

While at NU, Behrens won three Big 12 titles, was named 1997 Big 12 Freshman of the Year and chosen as the University's female student-athlete of the year in 2001 after leading the Cornhuskers to a 34-0 mark and national title in the fall of 2000 as a senior. She closed her career as the school's all-time digs leader with 1,086.

In the classroom, Behrens was a Chancellor's Scholar and four-time Highest Honors Distinction Medal honoree. She also was a four-year academic all-Big 12 selection, a recipient of an NCAA Postgraduate scholarship and one of 10 finalists for the 2001 NCAA Woman of the Year. She was also a member of the Mortar Board Honor Society, Pi Lambda Theta Honor Society, Golden Key, 2000 Homecoming Royalty Court and the Dean's List.

Behrens and her husband, Matt, were married on June 3 in Lincoln (photo on page 24). The couple resides in Omaha.

Steve Bymers

Also returning for his fourth season as a volunteer coach is Steve Bymers. Bymers helps in all facets of the team's practices and also tracks serve receive statistics on gameday.

Before coming to CU, Bymers had spent the previous two seasons as an assistant at nearby Dana College where he helped with practice, recruiting and statistics. Bymers was also an assistant coach at Gross Catholic High School for two seasons, helping the program win the Class B state title in 1999.

A fixture on the club circuit, Bymers has coached nine teams to top-30 JOV National finishes in the last nine years. He also has seven top-five finishes in the Open Division at National Qualifiers in six seasons, including a national title in the USAV Men's 'A' Division in 1997. In 2001 he helped start the Nebraska Elite Volleyball program, which has sent 40 teams to the national tournament in its first six seasons.

Bymers and his wife, Kim, reside in Blair and are parents of Garrett (14), Jordyn (12) and Grant (7).

About This Survey

These results based on a survey given to the nine returning women from the 2005 Creighton Volleyball team.

Players were not allowed to vote for incoming freshmen, but were allowed to vote for themself if they desired.

Life As A Bluejay

MEMORIES. It's what the college experience is all about. Being a part of the Creighton Volleyball program gives the Bluejay players a lifetime full of memories, both on and off the court.

The 2005 team went to San Diego, Calif., where it enjoyed a few days shopping and visiting the beach while also winning the San Diego State Invitational (photos on next page).

The entire team was present for the Fourth Annual Creighton Volleyball Golf Outing, held each May at Indian Creek Golf Course (below).

Most of the team was on hand when assistant coach Angie Oxley Behrens got married in June (right).

But there's more to life than volleyball. Girls that entered as 18-year old freshmen graduate four years later as mature 22-year old women (next page). They become successful pharmacists, nurses, housewives and businesswomen. They become leaders.

Most importantly, they are teammates, now and forever.

Six different players were honored at last year's MVC Tournament banquet with either all-conference, all-freshman or Scholar-Athlete recognition.

Seniors Leah Ratzlaff (left), Molly Lahr (middle) and Katy Grady (right) all graduated in four years last May.

Jaden Custer (2000-03)

Creighton Degree: 2006 Doctorate in Pharmacy
Current Job: Pharmacist at Walgreens
Current Location: Alamosa, Colorado

"My time as a Creighton Volleyball player holds the majority of my best college memories. The relationships I built with my teammates and coaches helped me to develop into the person I am today. Without my volleyball scholarship, I would not have been able to attend Creighton where I received an awesome education and a degree of which I am very proud.

"Throughout my time as a Jay, I learned many life lessons and ways of dealing well with everyday stresses. Being a volleyball team member taught me incredible time management skills, multi-tasking and how to deal with stressful situations."

Janeen Piller (2001-04)

Creighton Degree: 2005 Exercise Science
Current Job: Attending Physician Assistant School at University of Nebraska Medical Center
Current Location: Omaha, Nebraska

"My college career at Creighton was more than I could have dreamed for. The athletic program as a whole was a second family to me. The support I received from the staff and my teammates was something I will never forget. I feel so privileged to have been coached by such an amazing coaching staff and have formed friendships that will last forever.

"The sky is the limit for the future Creighton Volleyball girls. The coaching staff has done an excellent job building a foundation and bringing in exceptional athletes that will continue to help the program reach the top level."

Leah Ratzlaff (2002-05)

Creighton Degree: 2006 in Psychology
Currently: Starting law school at Creighton this fall

"I had never even heard of Creighton when I was recruited, and now I can't imagine my life without Creighton volleyball. Being part of this program created some of the best memories I will ever have and also introduced me to some amazing people that I know I will be friends with for the rest of my life.

"The team is going to be making some huge strides this season and in the next few years. The NCAA tournament is definitely within their reach. I'm just glad I'll be able to say I was there to help build the foundation and get it all started.

"I truly feel that playing volleyball has made me the person I am today. Not only did it take some qualities I already had and improve on them, like competitiveness and determination, but being part of this program also helped me develop new skills, like leadership and time management, that will be equally as valuable in the future."

2005 Recap

The 2005 Creighton Volleyball team finished 16-14, including a 10-8 Missouri Valley Conference mark, during a memorable season that left the fans dreaming of the promise the future holds. Though that team graduated three key seniors, the continued development of three freshmen on the 2005 team and a top-notch recruiting class should help keep the Bluejays in the upper division of the MVC for years to come.

Creighton opened the year by hosting the Bluejay Invitational, its first home tournament since 1997. Creighton won its lid-lifter for the second-straight year, dispatching Northern Colorado in a three-game sweep. Iowa State would win the tournament with a victory over both opponents.

The Jays then played some of their best ball of the season en route to winning the SDSU Invitational in San Diego, Calif. Creighton beat UC-Riverside, Liberty and San Diego State in succession while clicking on all cylinders. The Jays hit a combined .414 in the three sweeps as senior Leah Ratzlaff was named MVP of the event.

They Jays would face some of the nation's top competition while dropping their next three matches. Creighton lost a non-conference match at 24th-ranked Kansas State, also losing starting outside hitter Carolyn Decker for the season (elbow) on the match's final point. The Jays also fell in a close four-game match at Colorado and in straight sets to third-ranked and defending national champion Stanford. The Jays closed out play at the Colorado Invitational with a five-game win over Big East foe Marquette.

Creighton's start to MVC play wasn't much to write home about, losing five of six league matches to start conference action. Creighton also lost libero Brittany Coleman prior to its Sept. 23 match when she quit the team. The Bluejays would beat South Dakota State and Drake prior to hanging tough in a loss at top-ranked Nebraska on Oct. 11 that seemed to give the team confidence for the second half of the year.

Creighton would take road matches at Evansville and Southern Illinois the following weekend to close the first trip of league play with a 4-5 mark. The Jays started the second round through the league with a 1-3 mark before finishing as hot as any team in the league. Creighton would win its final five matches of the regular-season, including a five-game win at Northern Iowa. The Jays had been 0-24 all-time against the Panthers and became the first team since 1992 to win a five-game match against UNI at West Gym. Thanks to a road sweep of UNI and Bradley on the final weekend of the regular-season, Creighton finished in fifth place of the MVC at 10-8 in the Valley, including six league road wins.

One week after its upset of Northern Iowa, Creighton had the difficult task of trying to knock off the Panthers in the opening round of the State Farm MVC Tournament in Cedar Falls. UNI proved up to the challenge though, sweeping the Jays out of the Tournament with a 30-24, 30-19, 30-22 win.

Individually, Creighton had a number of standouts. Ratzlaff picked up first-team all-MVC honors for a second straight year while finishing her storied career. She would set school marks for career kills with 1,622, a figure that places her 12th in MVC history, as well as marks for attack attempts and points. She was joined in CU's senior class by OH/MH Katy Grady and DS Molly Lahr.

Earning second-team all-MVC accolades as a sophomore was Kelly Goc. An MVC all-Freshman Team member in 2004, Goc was one of Creighton's most consistent players and ranked eighth in the league in both kills per game and points per game in 2005.

Without a doubt, no team in the MVC got more from its freshmen class than Creighton. Korie Lebeda played every point and set an MVC single-season record with 13.34 assists per game. Her 1,401 assists were a Bluejay record and rank fourth in league history for a freshman. She was joined on the MVC All-Freshman Team by Jessica Houts. Houts led all MVC rookies with 2.84 kills and 1.27 blocks per game.

After not playing much early in the year, there was no stopping Amanda Cvejdlik once she became a regular in the Bluejay line-up. Cvejdlik led all MVC freshmen in kills and kills per game during league action while developing a reputation for owning one of the most powerful arms in the conference.

As a team, Creighton set single-season school records for kills, kills per game, assists, assists per game, block assists and blocks per game. The Jays also set marks for wins in a two-year span and three-year span.

Kills and Kills Per Game

A kill is awarded to a player any time an attack is unreturnable by the opposition and is a direct cause of the opponent not returning the ball or any time the attack leads directly to a blocking error by the opposition. A kill leads directly to a point.
Kills Per Game = Kills / Games Played

About These Records

These records only reflect matches played since Creighton Volleyball's reinstatement in 1994. Persons with more information on the previous teams are encouraged to contact the Creighton Sports Information Office at (402) 280-5544 to help rebuild the past.

Names and records in bold on these pages were set in 2005.

Attack Pct. and Attack Attempts

Attack Percentage = (Kills - Attack Errors) / Attack Attempts
An attack attempt is recorded any time a player attempts to attack (hit strategically) the ball into the opponents court. The ball may be set, spiked, tipped or hit as an overhead contact.

Aces and Aces Per Game

A service ace is a serve that results directly in a point. An ace is awarded if the serve strikes the opponent's court untouched, the serve is passed by the opponent but can't be kept in play, if the referee calls a violation on the receiver, or if the receiving team is out of rotation.

Digs and Digs Per Game

A dig is awarded when a player passes the ball that has been attacked by the opposition. Digs are given only when players receive an attacked ball and it is kept in play, not when a ball is brought up off a "put back" (blocked ball).

Block Solos and Block Assists

A block solo is awarded when a single player blocks the ball into the opposition's court leading directly to a point. That player must be the only blocker attempting to block the ball.
A block assist is awarded when two or three players block the ball into the opponents court for a point. Each player blocking receives a block assist even if only one player actually makes contact with the ball.

Points and Points Per Game

Points are a relatively new volleyball stat, having been introduced with the beginning of rally scoring in 2001. Points are awarded for positive contributions that lead directly to a point for a player's team. Points = Kills + Aces + Block Solos + .5(Block Assists)
Points Per Game = Points / Games Played

Head Coach History

Ben Guiliano

Ben Guiliano helped lay the groundwork for Creighton volleyball as the man in charge when Creighton reinstated volleyball prior to the 1994 season. Guiliano guided the Bluejays from 1994-96 and posted a 25-58 (.301) winning percentage in that time.

Howard Wallace

Howard Wallace took over prior to the 1997 season and led the Bluejays to four Missouri Valley Conference Tournament appearances in his six years on the job. In 1997, Wallace was named the MVC's Co-Coach of the Year after guiding the Jays to a third place finish in league play. He resigned December 10, 2002 with a 68-94 record in six seasons on the Bluejay bench.

Kirsten Bernthal Booth

Kirsten Bernthal Booth became the program's third head coach with her February 3, 2003 appointment. She owns a record of 46-43 entering 2006 and is the school's all-time leader with a .517 winning percentage.

Timeline

September 2, 1994: In the program's first match, the Bluejays record a 3-0 win against UT-Chattanooga at the Tulane Invitational in New Orleans. Game scores were 18-16, 15-8, 15-3. Creighton ended its first season with an overall record of 5-20 and tied for ninth in the Missouri Valley Conference at 3-17.

September 10, 1994: Melissa Weisensee records the first triple-double in the history of the program with 40 assists, 19 digs and 10 kills during a four-game loss to Illinois State.

September 9, 1995: Almost a year to the day since Melissa Weisensee recorded Creighton's first triple-double, JoDe Cieloha accomplishes the feat again with 15 kills, 10 digs and 12 total blocks (11 block assists) in a loss at Bradley.

November 21, 1995: Creighton ends the season with a non-league win versus UMKC to finish with its first-ever double-figure win total at 11-19. The Bluejays also went 6-14 in MVC matches to improve to a tie for seventh place in the standings.

August 31, 1996: With wins against Murray State, UW-Green Bay and UMKC, the Bluejays finish with a 3-1 mark at the Creighton First Serve Festival. It is the first time Creighton records a winning record at a tourney.

November 2, 1996: Michelle Prorock records a school-record 32 kills in a four-game win over Evansville.

November 10, 1996: JoDe Cieloha finishes with 22 kills, 15 digs and 12 total blocks (two solo) in a five-game loss at Western Illinois for her second career triple-double performance.

November 9, 1997: Melissa Weisensee registers her second career triple-double, and the fourth in Creighton annals, by finishing with 65 assists, 22 digs and 12 kills in a five-game loss at Evansville.

November 20, 1997: After its best-ever third-place finish in the MVC's regular season standings, Creighton and first-year head coach Howard Wallace make their first appearance at the MVC Tournament. The Jays prove they belong, topping Indiana State in three games.

October 16, 1998: Freshman setter Kailey Reyes joins Creighton's triple-double club and the Bluejays win! The first four triple-doubles had come during Bluejay losses. Reyes ended the night with 62 assists, 21 digs and 10 kills in the five-game win vs. Indiana State.

September 10, 1999: A 3-1 win over Southern Illinois not only helps the Jays successfully open their home and MVC schedules, but also marks the 50th win in the program's sixth year.

October 9, 1999: Creighton posts a 3-2 win at Wichita State, thanks in large part to setter Kailey Reyes' second career triple-double. Reyes, who earned Second-Team All-MVC honors at the end of the season, finished with 47 assists, 11 kills and 11 digs.

November 16, 1999: Melissa Walsh is named to the Missouri Valley Conference's First Team, becoming the first Creighton volleyball player to have earned the honor. Walsh paced the Bluejays with a school-record 428 kills, plus 338 digs and 104 total blocks (13 solo).

September 2, 2000: The Bluejays finish a perfect season-opening weekend by defeating Iowa State, Idaho and UNC-Greensboro to win the Iowa State Heritage Classic. It marks the first time in program history that the Jays were able to win a tournament. Melissa Walsh was named the tournament's MVP and was joined on the all-tourney team by Kailey Reyes.

October 14, 2000: Kailey Reyes strikes again, recording her third career triple-double and the seventh in Creighton history. Reyes finished with 71 assists, 17 digs and 13 kills in a five-game win at Indiana State.

November 24, 2000: Melissa Walsh and Kailey Reyes become the first Bluejay duo to earn first team all-MVC accolades in the same year.

July 31, 2001: Creighton is tabbed for second in the MVC's Preseason Coaches Poll, marking the highest spot the Jays have ever attained in the poll. The 1994 squad was tabbed for 11th in the then-11-team league, while 1995's team was predicted 9th, 1996 (9th), 1997 (8th), 1998 (6th), 1999 (tie 7th) and 2000 (4th).

September 8, 2001: Creighton wins game two of its match with #24 Santa Clara on the Broncos home floor. It marks the first game Creighton has ever won against a ranked team in eight matches.

October 6, 2001: Melissa Walsh becomes Creighton's all-time leader when she pounds her 1,376th career kill vs. Southern Illinois and leads the Bluejays to a best-ever 6-1 MVC start.

October 12, 2001: Molly Moran breaks Melissa Weisensee's school record when she records her 126th career service ace in a win over Bradley. CU opens MVC play 7-1.

November 5, 2001: Melissa Walsh becomes the third player in MVC history to be named MVC Player of the Week on five occasions when she shares the weekly award with Bradley's Stephanie Behrns. Walsh averaged 6.22 kills and hit .505 in three wins. Creighton also starts 11-3 in league play, setting another record for MVC wins in a season.

November 10, 2001: Kailey Reyes sets Creighton's all-time assists record when she records her 4,019th career assist at Bradley.

November 16, 2001: Kailey Reyes sets her second school record in a week when she sets the career digs mark with 1,224 all-time in a win over Wichita State.

November 20, 2001: Melissa Walsh and Kailey Reyes are named first-team all-MVC, while Erin Swanson is a second-team all-league pick. It is Walsh's third straight honor and Reyes' second consecutive. In addition, Ashley Williams is picked to the all-Newcomer squad.

March 19, 2002: Molly Moran is named a National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) All-American Athlete for 2002. Creighton Strength & Conditioning coach Satoshi Ochi nominated Moran due to her dedication to strength training and conditioning.

September 29, 2002: A crowd of 8,627 fans gather in Lincoln to watch Creighton face #5 Nebraska as part of the Nebraska Volleyball Classic. The attendance figure remains the largest in school history ever to see a Creighton match.

February 3, 2003: Kirsten Bernthal Booth is hired to become the third coach in modern Creighton Volleyball history. Booth replaces Howard Wallace, who resigned after six seasons on Dec. 10, 2002.

August 29, 2003: Brittany Coleman has 55 assists and 10 digs at Iowa State to join JoDe Cieloha as the only players in school history to debut with a double-double.

September 19, 2003: Creighton moves into the Omaha Civic Auditorium to play its first season of games there. A school-record crowd of 806 fans sees Creighton open MVC play with a five-game victory over Southern Illinois.

November 15, 2003: Leah Ratzlaff's first kill of game two is her 436th of the season, passing Melissa Walsh for most in a single-season in school history.

November 21, 2003: Creighton beats Evansville in four games to clinch its fourth MVC Tournament bid in five years. Brittany Coleman's season-high 69 assists gives her CU's new single-season mark, passing Kailey Reyes' 1,237.

September 4, 2004: Freshman Carolyn Decker serves a school-record eight aces as Creighton downs host New Mexico to win the Comcast Lobo Invitational, the program's second tournament win ever.

September 10, 2004: The Jays upset perennial NCAA Tournament qualifier Missouri in Columbia to open a three-match run to the Quality Inn Tiger Invitational title. Sarah Beulke is named Tournament MVP.

September 17, 2004: Creighton wins its program-best seventh straight match, opening MVC play with a sweep over Indiana State.

October 23, 2004: Creighton defeats eventual MVC regular-season and tourney champ Wichita State in five games, snapping the Shockers' 13-match win streak.

September 3, 2005: Creighton sweeps host San Diego State to win the SDSU Invitational. Creighton hits .414 in the tournament, which featured three sweeps.

October 28, 2005: Korie Lebeda surpasses 1,000 career assists in her 23rd career match, fastest in program history to that milestone. Lebeda would finish the year with 13.34 assists per game, a new MVC record.

November 18, 2005: Creighton stuns host Northern Iowa at West Gymnasium, beating the Panthers for the first time in 25 all-time meetings.

November 19, 2005: A game two kill by Leah Ratzlaff lets her pass Melissa Walsh for most kills in program history. Ratzlaff would finish with 1,622 kills, 26 more than Walsh, in her standout career.

Missouri Valley Conference

In 2006-07, the Missouri Valley Conference celebrates a century of excellence as the nation's second-oldest NCAA Division I conference begins its second centennial as a leader in college athletics.

In the league's first 100 seasons, 32 members combined for 25 national championships, while 55 Valley student-athletes captured NCAA individual titles. In addition, Valley student-athletes and coaches earned 48 National Player or Coach of the Year honors in their respective sports. And the league had a myriad of student-athletes who collected All-America honors and earned national academic distinction in The Valley's first century.

The Missouri Valley Conference continues to lead by example as one of college athletics' most progressive conferences. The Valley emphasizes the importance of the student-athlete and is aggressive in its approach to provide opportunities for its member institutions.

While the success of men's basketball has received the greatest attention, the overall performance of league teams in virtually every sport continues to raise the national profile of the conference.

The 2005-06 men's basketball season was truly one of the most memorable in the first century of competition in the Missouri Valley Conference. A record six teams competed in post-season play and combined for seven post-season wins. Bradley and regular-season champion Wichita State represented the league in the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament, marking the first time that two Valley teams had reached the Sweet 16 in the same season. Tournament champion Southern Illinois and UNI also represented The Valley in the NCAA Tournament, giving the league four teams in the Big Dance for the first time in conference history. The league finished sixth in the final Ratings Percentage Index (RPI) - an all-time best. Attendance marks were set as more than 1.2 million fans attended home games in league cities while the State Farm MVC Men's Basketball Championship established an all-time attendance mark for the four-day event. And for the first time in history, CBS Sports carried The Valley title game to a national audience.

The success of The Valley television package is one of the great stories in the league, in terms of the clearance of the men's basketball tournament title game on national broadcast television, the excellent national and regional coverage for basketball and other sports, and the effective sale of advertising content to a more than 25 companies. The MVC Television Network has blossomed into a revenue-generating vehicle and The Valley's most visible marketing tool.

During the tenure of Doug Elgin, The Valley's ninth and longest-tenured commissioner, The Valley has been aggressive in hosting NCAA events in St. Louis. That role came to a spectacular climax in April 2005 as the conference collaborated with local partners to stage the Men's Final Four at the Edward Jones Dome.

This continuing involvement of the MVC in hosting NCAA events represents one of the most concentrated stretches of host opportunities for any university or conference in the 68-year history of the national championship tournament. The 2005 host opportunity was the sixth in eight years for The Valley in St. Louis. The league had previously hosted men's regionals in 1998, 1999 and 2004; a men's first/second round event in 2002 and the Women's Final Four in 2001. The Valley will host a men's basketball regional in 2007 and a Women's Final Four in 2009. Additionally, Creighton and The Valley will co-host a men's basketball first and second round in 2008 in Omaha.

And while the Missouri Valley Conference has been progressive in pursuing NCAA events, it has continued to be a national leader in the athletic arena. The oldest Division I athletic conference west of the Mississippi River, The Valley has had numerous successes in its storied history, which includes a myriad of accomplishments since the turn of the century.

The 2000-01 basketball season was highlighted by a Women's Final Four appearance by Missouri State, while in 2001-02, the league produced four Sweet 16 teams, including Southern Illinois (men's basketball), UNI (volleyball), Southern Methodist (men's soccer), and Drake (women's basketball). A College World Series appearance by the MSU baseball team highlighted the 2002-03 season. In 2003-04, Southern Illinois' men's basketball team was one win shy of a perfect 18-0 conference season, losing at UNI on the final day of the regular season. And the 2004-05 campaign had three NCAA Tournament participants in men's basketball, men's soccer, and softball.

The seeds for this vision were planted by eight administrators representing five institutions, who met at the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, Mo., on Jan. 12, 1907. The five schools which formed the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association were Washington University of St. Louis, and the state universities of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska. Two months after the initial meeting, two more schools -- Drake University and Iowa State College -- were admitted.

Athletic accomplishments on the men's athletics side include 10 national basketball championships, 16 trips to the NCAA Final Four, a 1989 national baseball championship and 19 College World Series qualifiers. In 2001, Missouri State added to The Valley women's accomplishments, as the Lady Bears advanced to the Women's Basketball Final Four in St. Louis. Creighton (2004) and Missouri State (2005) have claimed national championships (WNIT) in women's basketball, while MSU also has a 1992 NCAA Women's Final Four appearance, and Creighton (2003) and Drake (1999) have made semifinal trips to the WNIT postseason tournament.

Indeed, the inclusion of women's programs under The Valley banner has provided a boost. The Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference -- which began in 1982 -- merged with the Missouri Valley Conference and was unveiled as part of the new conference on July 1, 1992.

And while the inclusion of women's sports under a comprehensive athletic umbrella is a recent development in the league's storied history, over the years, Valley student-athletes and coaches have become household names during the league's illustrious history, both during their collegiate careers and, for some, professional careers.

In fact, The Valley began honoring that tradition in the summer of 1997, when the conference began its athletics Hall of Fame. Hersey Hawkins of Bradley, Larry Bird of Indiana State, Wes Unseld of Louisville, Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State, Dave Stallworth of Wichita State, Ed Macauley of Saint Louis, and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati were members of the initial induction class. Currently, more than 30 former players, coaches and alums dot the league's Hall of Fame.

Men's basketball, perhaps, has the league's most storied tradition with the likes of Hall of Famers Bird and Robertson, but The Valley has also produced national-caliber student-athletes in its other sponsored sports. In 2001, Missouri State's Jackie Stiles became the first Valley woman to earn the Honda-Broderick Cup, given to the nation's top female collegiate student-athlete. In the sport of track and field, Indiana State's Holli Hyche captured seven national sprint titles in the early 1990s, and Southern Illinois' Darrin Plab won back-to-back NCAA outdoor high jump titles in 1991 and 1992. In the fall of 1997, Creighton's Johnny Torres was named the collegiate male soccer player of the year for a second-straight year, while SMU's Luchi Gonzalez (2001) and Tulsa's Ryan Pore (2004) have also earned a National Player of the Year honor in men's soccer. Meanwhile league member Wichita State has produced three national collegiate players of the year in baseball, including Joe Carter (1981), Phil Stephenson (1982) and Darren Dreifort (1993).

From its early beginning to its current standing on the map of college athletics, The Valley will always continue to be proactive in its approach.

League members include Bradley University, Creighton University, Drake University, the University of Evansville, Illinois State University, Indiana State University, Missouri State University, the University of Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois University and Wichita State University. Affiliate men's soccer members include Eastern Illinois University and Western Kentucky University.

Creighton University

Location

Creighton is located in Omaha, Neb., population 409,416 with a combined metropolitan population of 1.1 million people in eight counties.

Creighton History

Founded in 1878, Creighton University is a private co-educational university in the United States, founded by the Society of Jesus and one of 28 member institutions of the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities.

In 2006, U.S. News & World Report ranked Creighton No. 1 among Midwest Master's universities.

Creighton Today

The Creighton of today is nationally recognized as the leading comprehensive university in the Midwest. Creighton is synonymous with student centered education and the setting for significant undergraduate student research. As one of 28 universities in America designed in the Jesuit tradition of academic excellence and service to others, Creighton believes in humanistic education through service, reflection and learning. We also seek to create an inclusive, diverse community at the University. Today, Creighton offers more than 50 majors in the undergraduate divisions of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration and the School of Nursing, plus six prestigious professional schools: medicine, dentistry, law, pharmacy, physical therapy and occupational therapy.

The 2005 freshman academic profile places Creighton among the top five private universities in the Midwest, and among the top 10 Catholic universities in the nation. And U.S. News & World Report lists Creighton as a "best value" one of the schools where students get the best return on their tuition investment. Creighton has also been cited as outstanding by other publications, including Money, Kiplinger's Personal Finance and Peterson's Best 311 Colleges. Princeton Review, Inc., also recently ranked Creighton among the nation's top colleges and universities.

Student Life at Creighton

- Ten nationally recognized social fraternities and sororities.
- More than 180 active student clubs and organizations.
- With free high-speed Internet access in each of the eight residence halls, apartment living for juniors and seniors, and a special hall for graduate and married students.
- Creighton is a wireless campus, accommodating the more than 95 percent of students with mobile computing devices.
- As a Jesuit institution, Creighton makes service a core part of the educational mission. Creighton students, faculty and staff serve all over the U.S. and around the world, in 90 countries and on seven continents. Programs of service include educational outreach, medical and dental assistance, pro bono legal work and more.
- Creighton welcomes students of all religious beliefs and the University encourages students to participate in faith retreats, faith sharing opportunities and multi-faith services.

Student Snapshot

Creighton students come from every state and more than 40 countries. Of our 6,804 students, 3,999 are enrolled as undergraduates, and 2,805 are in the graduate, law, medical, dental, pharmacy, physical therapy and occupational therapy programs.

The Creighton Campus

At Creighton, we are committed to having the best campus around. The 130-acre campus is located within walking distance of downtown Omaha and many recreational, cultural and entertainment opportunities. To date, Creighton has invested more than $175 million in on-campus improvements and constructed four new buildings, including Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium, which distinguishes Omaha as the exclusive host of the region's only athletic facility designed exclusively for soccer. The stadium hosts high school, club and international soccer events and a variety of Omaha community events. The Hixson-Lied Science Building and the renovated Rigge Science Building and Criss Health Sciences Building are the centerpiece of a $56 million initiative providing Creighton's undergraduate and health professions a leading edge approach to teaching and research. The Davis Square and Opus Hall Town homes are the new upperclassmen town homes that are located on the east side of campus.

At the center of the campus is the historic St. John's Church, the California Street Mall, the Lied Education Center for the Arts, a modern student center and physical fitness facility.

The Hixson-Lied Science Building opened in the spring of 2003.

Community Service & Outreach

At Creighton, students have the opportunity to live the Jesuit Mission - to become a part of the Jesuit belief of the value and dignity of the individual. With an emphasis on service and social justice, the Creighton education will give students the foundation for a life well lived. Last year, Creighton faculty, staff and students volunteered in 60 agencies in the greater Omaha area, providing service in more than 100 programs supported by the University and Medical Center.

Faculty

- A total of 649 faculty members.
- Student-to-faculty ratio of 12:1.
- At Creighton, the faculty is conducting internationally recognized work in many areas, including hereditary cancer, osteoporosis, hearing impairment, bone metabolism, regional economics and more.

2005-06 Athletics Highlights

- Creighton serves as the annual host institution for the NCAA College World Series. June 15-25, 2007 will mark the 58th consecutive year the CWS comes to Rosenblatt Stadium in Omaha. Last year the event once again had record crowds and welcomed its six millionth fan.
- Creighton Athletics ranked 15th nationally with a 95 percent graduation rate.
- Creighton student-athletes owned a GPA of 3.24 last spring and won a second consecutive MVC Academic Award.
- The men's basketball program set an MVC record with its eighth straight 20-win season while advancing to the postseason for a ninth consecutive season.
- The men's soccer team capped its 14th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance while remaining the only program with at least one selection in every MLS draft. The program has made three College Cup showings since 1996.
- The women's soccer team won the State Farm MVC Tournament to reach the NCAA Tournament for the third time in the last four years.
- Creighton ranked fifth nationally in men's soccer attendance and 20th in men's basketball attendance.
- Creighton will co-host the first two rounds of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament at Qwest Center OMAHA™ on March 20 & 22, 2008.

CU Athletics on the Web

History of Billy Bluejay

"Billy Bluejay" is the official mascot of the Creighton University athletics department. The Bluejays were originally depicted by a "birdwatcher's bluejay," but that was changed in 1941 when Joseph P. Murphy, a Creighton alumnus, designed the current version of Billy, one with a more human stance and expression.

Prior to 1924, Creighton teams were referred to as the "Hilltoppers," but that name lost favor because at least six other teams in the country also used the same nickname. The Omaha Bee assisted the University's Athletic Board and Alumni Association in finding a new nickname by asking readers to submit possibilities. After reviewing 200 entries, the Athletic Board decided upon "Bluejays" because of the school's colors, blue and white.

Today, Creighton remains the only NCAA Division I athletics program known officially as the Bluejays.

Rev. John P. Schlegel, S.J.

Under the leadership of Creighton President the Rev. John P. Schlegel, S.J., Creighton University is nationally recognized as the leading comprehensive university in the Midwest and within the Jesuit network of universities.

Fr. Schlegel became Creighton University's 23rd president in August 2000, following nine years as president of the University of San Francisco.

Fr. Schlegel is leading Creighton into a new era of growth and prosperity. Through his vision, the University is embarking on its most ambitious campus expansion in its 128-year history. Creighton University will become a national model showcasing a dynamic faith-based living and learning community in a 21st century urban environment.

In 2005, Fr. Schlegel announced Willing To Lead: The Campaign For Creighton University – an ambitious $350 million capital campaign designed to secure Creighton's place as one of the premier Jesuit, Catholic universities in the United States.

Under Fr. Schlegel's leadership, the University has added some 20 acres to its campus and invested about $170 million in new construction, renovation and campus improvement. Already recognized as a leader in science education, the University has renovated many of its science-related facilities and is home to the new state-of-the-art Hixson Lied Science Building. This integrated science center and the Creighton University Medical Center provide a national model for interdisciplinary health sciences education and research.

Creighton's expanding campus offers a welcoming environment for all students. This fall, Creighton opened Opus Hall, one of two new Victorian-style town homes offering apartment living for junior and seniors. Creighton also has begun work on a new living-learning center. This unique facility will serve as a dramatic "front door" to the University, consolidating traditional student support services into one study-friendly location. Add to that the new Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium, which is among the premier college campus soccer facilities in the nation.

Prior to his service at the University of San Francisco, Fr. Schlegel was Creighton University's assistant academic vice president (1978-82), academic dean of Rockhurst College (1982-84), dean of arts and sciences at Marquette University (1984-88), and executive and academic vice president at John Carroll University (1988-91).

Fr. Schlegel, a native of Dubuque, Iowa, entered the Society of Jesus in 1963 and was ordained in 1973. He holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from Saint Louis University; a B.D. honors degree in theology from the University of London; and a doctorate in international relations from Oxford University.

He is a member of numerous international, national and local boards of directors, executive committees and associations. Fr. Schlegel is a past member of the board of trustees of Chicago's Loyola University, Xavier University, Loyola University of the South, Saint Louis University and Loyola College in Maryland. Fr. Schlegel also is a director of the American International School of Hong Kong.

In Omaha, he serves on several boards including Creighton University Medical Center, Creighton Preparatory School, Duchesne Academy, and Opera Omaha. He is a member of the board of directors and serves on the Executive Committees of the Greater Omaha Chamber of Commerce, Joslyn Art Museum and Mid-America Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Previously, he has held numerous board positions with an array of organizations including St. Mary's Medical Center Foundation, Il Cenacolo, Coro, World Affairs Council of Northern California, the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities, the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, where he served as chair of the National Student Aid Task Force, and Heythrop College at the University of London.

Fr. Schlegel also has served on accreditation site visits for the North Central Association, and was a consultant to the Organization for Economic Development and Cooperation based in Paris.

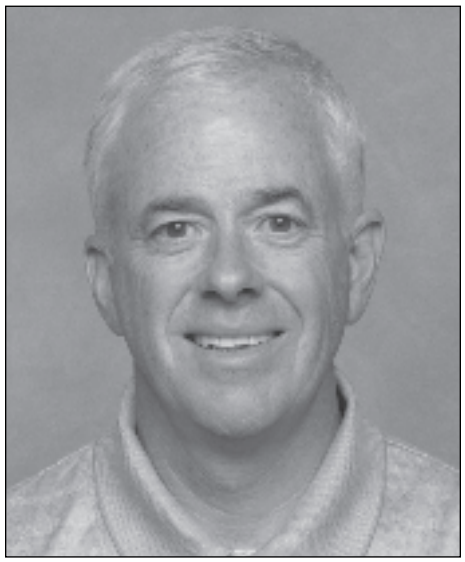
In May of 2004 the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society Lodge 1 in Omaha presented him with the 2004 Honored Citizen Award for his outstanding leadership of Creighton University. For his promotion of understanding and respect among all races, religions and cultures, Fr. Schlegel received the Otto Swanson Spirit of Service Award from the National Conference for Community and Justice in May 2003. Fr. Schlegel also received the first Champion of Greatness Award from Special Olympics Nebraska.

He enjoys opera, classical music, gourmet cooking, racket sports and the outdoors.

Creighton
UNIVERSITY

Fr. John P. Schlegel, S.J., became Creighton's 23rd president in August, 2000.

Bruce Rasmussen



Bruce Rasmussen enters his 13th year as director of athletics, and 27th overall at Creighton University.

During his tenure, Creighton has risen to prominence with its success on-and-off the field, impressive new facilities and record-breaking fundraising efforts.

The men's soccer team is one of a handful of schools to appear in each of the last 14 NCAA Tournaments, while the men's basketball team is just the second team in the 100-year history of the Missouri Valley Conference to reach the postseason in nine straight campaigns. Combined, Creighton is the only school in the country that can claim nine consecutive postseason appearances in men's soccer and men's basketball.

The Creighton softball team has made three NCAA Tournament appearances in the last four years, while the baseball team won its first regular-season league title in 2005 and has spent time in the national rankings in each of the past two seasons.

Four Creighton teams moved to new facilities in 2003-04. The men's basketball team moved to the riverfront to play in the brand new, $291 million, Qwest Center OMAHA™. Last winter, the Jays averaged an MVC-record 13,901 fans per game and ranked 20th nationally in attendance.

The Michael G. Morrison, S.J., Stadium opened as one of the premier soccer venues in the country. Located on the east edge of the Creighton campus, the complex includes 6,000 seats and will serve as the home for the 2006 State Farm Missouri Valley Conference Women's Soccer Tournament this fall.

Additionally, the Creighton volleyball team found a new home at the venerable Omaha Civic Auditorium in 2003. The move closer to campus paid big dividends, as the program has established new average attendance marks three years running.

Rasmussen also has continued to make outstanding hires at every opportunity. Most recently, Kirsten Bernthal Booth has helped the volleyball team improve by 15 wins in her first two seasons, while Ed Servais earned MVC Coach of the Year honors in each of his first two years.

Another recent hire, women's basketball's Jim Flanery, matched the league record with 48 wins in his first two seasons. He led his first three teams to the postseason. CU's 2004 women's basketball team won the school's first postseason national title of any kind when they won the WNIT.

A member of the College World Series of Omaha, Inc., Executive Committee, Rasmussen plays a vital role in Creighton and the city of Omaha remaining as host of the College World Series. The CWS has established new attendance records in each of the past four years at Rosenblatt Stadium.

Rasmussen was one of four regional winners from the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) to take home a 2004 GeneralSports TURF Systems AD of the Year Award.

In terms of academics, Creighton's reputation as one of the nation's top academic institutions is reflected in the success the Bluejay student-athletes have had in the classroom during Rasmussen's service as athletics director. Creighton's baseball, men's basketball, women's basketball, volleyball, men's and women's cross country, women's soccer and men's and women's tennis teams all have received national awards for their academic success. Bluejay student-athletes consistently own GPA's of 3.25 or above.

Creighton's primary annual fund-raising events are the Bluejay Bash, the Bluejay Golf Marathon and the Bluejay Jamboree. Under Rasmussen's supervision, each of these events continues to raise record-breaking funds for Creighton athletics. Most notably, the 2005 Jamboree generated more than $293,000 through its gourmet dinner, raffle and auction.

The successful fund-raising efforts have allowed Creighton to enhance its soccer, baseball and softball facilities under Rasmussen's leadership. In 1998, the $1.7 million Student-Athlete Support Center renovation project was completed in the Old Gymnasium, resulting in seven new team locker rooms, an expanded athletic training facility, new offices and storage space and an academic learning center. The centerpiece of the project is The Parker Family Foundation Academic Learning Center, which houses the athletic department's academic support team and features 20 computer stations and private study areas.

Rasmussen accepted the associate athletics director position in 1992 after a 12-year run as the winningest coach in Creighton women's basketball history (196-147), culminating in the program's historic 1991-92 season.

The 1992 Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, Rasmussen led the 1991-92 Bluejay women to a program-record 28 wins (28-4), the WAC regular-season and tournament championships and a first-round NCAA Tournament victory in the program's first-ever trip to the "Big Dance." With that 28-4 record in 1991-92, Rasmussen completed his college coaching career with a 196-147 record, good for a .571 winning percentage.

After serving as associate athletics director for two years, 1992-94, Rasmussen was named athletics director on Aug. 1, 1994.

A 1971 graduate of Northern Iowa, Rasmussen came to Creighton from Bettendorf (Iowa) High School, where he put together a three-year girl's basketball coaching record of 64-15. His 1978-79 club posted a mark of 27-2 and finished second at the state tournament. Rasmussen also coached at Maxwell (Iowa) High School, with a four-year record of 66-26, and Murray (Iowa) High School, with a two-year ledger of 31-13.

A native of Webster City, Iowa, Rasmussen and his wife, Jill, have five children: Megan (21), David (19), John (15), Katy (11) and Grace (8).

Creighton Academics

Academic and Athletic Success

- Creighton's student-athletes combined for a 3.24 GPA last spring. The student-athletes also own a 3.24 cumulative GPA.
- Creighton Athletics ranks first in the MVC and tied for 15th nationally with a 95 percent graduation rate.
- The NCAA recently introduced a new tool for the evaluation of the academic quality of participating programs. The Academic Progress Report is intended to gauge the progress student-athletes are making to degree completion and graduation. Eight Creighton teams scored a perfect 1,000, with the other six considerably above the 925 cut off. Creighton's composite score ranked in the top 10 percent nationally.
- Eighty of Creighton's 241 student-athletes (33.2 percent) earned a 3.50 GPA or better during the Spring 2006 semester. Six of these athletes were Creighton volleyball players.
- Creighton had 124 student-athletes make the Dean's List at least once last year, including 65 student-athletes who earned the honor both semesters.
- Nineteen student-athletes (7.9 percent), including two volleyball players, earned perfect 4.00 GPA's during the Spring 2006 semester.
- One-hundred forty-two student-athletes (58.9 percent) earned a 3.00 GPA or better in the Spring 2006 semester.
- Five teams (women's cross country, women's golf, women's soccer, women's tennis and volleyball) had team GPA's of 3.40 or better while six others were higher than 3.00.
- Creighton received the 2005-06 American Volleyball Coaches Association Team Academic Award for having a team GPA of 3.47 last spring and a 3.41 cumulative GPA. CU Volleyball also won the award in 1998, 1999, 2004 and 2005.
- Creighton owns 22 CoSIDA Academic All-American honors. Last year Zach Daeges (baseball) became CU's fourth repeat Academic All-American in school history.

Creighton Volleyball Wins 2005-06 AVCA Team Academic Award

The 2005-06 Creighton University volleyball team was honored by the American Volleyball Coaches Association as a recipient of the Game Plan/AVCA Team Academic Award. Creighton previously won the award in 1998, 1999, 2004 and 2005.

The award, initiated in the 1992-93 academic year, honors teams that displayed excellence in the classroom by maintaining at least a 3.30 cumulative GPA. Fifty-four Division I schools qualified for the honor in 2005-06, including eight teams in the Missouri Valley Conference.

"The Game Plan/AVCA Team Academic Award is what being a student-athlete is all about," said Kathy DeBoer, AVCA executive director. "The AVCA is privileged to once again to be able to award these schools for their excellence in the classroom. We congratulate the student-athletes, coaches and school personnel for achieving this honor and upholding the delicate balance between athletics and academics."

Last spring, the Creighton volleyball team posted a GPA of 3.47, as six student-athletes landed on the Dean's List (3.5 GPA or better). In addition, CU's three seniors last fall -- Leah Ratzlaff, Molly Lahr and Katy Grady -- all graduated in four years during spring commencement.

Leah Ratzlaff, Abby Baumann and Emily Greisch were all named first-team choices on the Missouri Valley Conference Scholar-Athlete team last season, giving CU seven such selections in the past three seasons.

Omaha

Omaha is a rich cultural city with a dynamic business community. Ranked by Forbes magazine as one of the Top 10 Best Places for Business and Careers, Omaha balances Midwest values with big-city life in the heart of America. It showcases numerous nationally recognized and world-renowned attractions.

A center for information technology, telecommunications, transportation and food processing, Omaha is the center of a metropolitan area of about 734,270, with more than one million people within a 50-mile radius. Omaha is located near the geographic center of the United States, on the west bank of the Missouri River that forms the Nebraska-Iowa border. The metro Omaha area has seen steady growth over the past five decades and is now the 42nd largest city and 61st largest metro area in the nation.

Omaha boasts an outstanding public education system. Nebraska ranks among the top states nationally for ACT and SAT scores. For 128 years, Omaha has been home to Creighton University, which is known as the best comprehensive Jesuit institution in the nation, consistently at the top of U.S. News & World Report annual rankings.

Omaha serves as headquarters for four Forbes 500 companies: Berkshire Hathaway, ConAgra Foods, Union Pacific Corp., and Mutual of Omaha Companies. More than 20 insurance companies, two dozen direct response/telemarketing centers and a number of other national and international firms also have headquarters in Omaha. The headquarters of STRATCOM, a vital military nerve center located at Offutt Air Force Base, is located in Omaha.

Omaha's unemployment rate has remained well under the national average during the past decade. Still, Omaha has accommodated new growth. During the 1990s, the Omaha metro area added more than 84,000 jobs, an increase of more than 25 percent.

Omaha is a cultural center of the Great Plains, with more than 20 live theaters (three that produce original works), a professional opera company, a regional professional symphony orchestra, a professional children's theater, a children's museum and a youth orchestra. Joslyn Art Museum and the Durham Western Heritage Museum are the two largest of many area art and historical offerings.

The Omaha Henry Doorly Zoo has an international reputation for its breeding programs, and its outstanding "no bars" facility boasts the world's largest indoor rain forest, cat complex and aviary. Its newest additions are a salt water aquarium, the most technically advanced in the country, an IMAX theater, the largest indoor desert in the world and a gorilla complex.

Outstanding sporting events in the area include the annual NCAA College World Series, for which Creighton serves as host, Omaha Royals (AAA baseball), the Omaha Lancers (U.S. Hockey League), the Omaha Beef (United Indoor Football League), the Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben Knights (American Hockey League) and a wide variety of collegiate and individual sports.

With all the city has to offer, Omaha enjoys a cost of living ranging up to 13 percent below the national average.

Qwest Center OMAHA is home to Creighton men's basketball and the 2006 and 2008 NCAA Women's Volleyball Championships. In 2008 it will host the first-and-second round of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament as well as the US Olympic Swimming Trials.

For the 58th consecutive year, Omaha will serve as host city for the NCAA College World Series at Rosenblatt Stadium, June 15-25, 2007.

Creighton Facilities

The home to Creighton volleyball and women's basketball, the Omaha Civic Auditorium is located just one block away from the eastern edge of the Creighton campus.

The building opened in the winter of 1955 and served as the home to Creighton men's basketball until the fall of 2003, when the team moved a mile away to luxurious Qwest Center OMAHA™. It is the current home of the Omaha Beef (United Indoor Football League), Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben Knights (American Hockey League), and former home of the Kansas City/Omaha Kings (NBA).

More than $26 million in renovations has been spent in the last 10 years, helping to keep the 9,377-seat facility among the league's nicest and loudest home venues.

From 2001-03, the Bluejay women's basketball team put together a 23-game winning streak that ranked second nationally to Connecticut. Likewise, the Bluejay men's basketball team was 44-3 in their final 47 contests at the Civic.

Last year at the Civic, the volleyball team had a total of 8,113 fans, a new single-season attendance record for the program. Included in this was a program-best 1,124 fans that saw Creighton meet Wichita State on Sept. 30, 2005.
